Claude Bruce Hume III is a native of Louisiana, born in Washington Parish, raised in New Orleans and now a resident of Tangipahoa Parish.

Bruce is primarily a self-educated artist with an unquenchable thirst for knowledge and a love for all things "Louisanne". Recently he attended the New Orleans Academy of Arts to help hone his skills as an artist. He also studied under the tutelage of Margaret Garland and Marty Swan--both art teachers and professional artists. Bruce is currently an active member of the Hammond Art Guild, Amite Art Club and past President of the Slidell Art League.

Oil painting is his greatest passion but he is fluent in watercolor, acrylics, charcoal, pastels and coffee. Bruce loves to share his passion for art with others through classes and workshops.
